

God Is Revealed Part 2

There is only one will in the universe that matters, it's the will of God. God wants to reveal His will to us and He wants to reveal Himself through us. From the beginning it was God's will to have a family and He decided to make man in His image. So collectively, as a church of the Lord Jesus, we are destined and designed to be everything that God is on the earth.

Mark 11:20-24 (NKJV) is a real statement of authority and power that Jesus spoke to his disciples saying, "Everything in your life can change". Even a heart that is against God can change (for example king Nebuchadnezzar).

Pastor John, "Two weeks before I went to Ethiopia, the Lord began to speak to me about a message that I must bring to the Nation of Ethiopia. I trusted the Lord to create a platform for me to speak and so, I delivered a word to the Nation of Ethiopia. When I was busy speaking, I could see in the spirit, these streams of light coming out of me and as they were touching the ground, they were bearing fruit". God said, "You go in the blessing of My Spirit. As you go, whatever I put in your mouth to speak, is going to bear fruit, is going to change the hearts of people, it's going to begin to change circumstances".

Everything that God does, is because He pleases it and it is His purpose. When you get your will into the alignment of what God pleases, then your whole life takes on purpose. Alternatively, your life is the purpose of pleasing yourself then all you can reap is what pleases you (which is never satisfying enough).

Isaiah 55:8-11 (AMPC) The evidence of the power of God's Word is evidently in Himself and not in what we Christians represent. A lot more power is at work, when we come and speak together. When we come in agreement, we have the ability to change things. One of the most powerful revelations that the enemy of God has tried to keep from the church, is that: words really matter. If you speak your experience (out of your soul) then your experience becomes the standard of your measurement. You have to make a decision that you are going to agree with God's Word more than you agree with your environment. Your future should not be dictated by your environment, but by what's happening in your heart by the Word of God. Your speaking produces change in your environment - that will cause you to prosper.

Nothing that happens in the life of a believer is a coincidence. He who controls the conversation, controls the culture (controls the outcome). Refuse to agree with the conversation of the culture (about the economic situation of South Africa). There is only one conversation that really matters and it's the conversation in agreement with God's will (His Word & His purpose).

When you speak His Word you are in agreement with Him; planted, flourishing & fruitful (Psalm 92:12-15 NKJV).

We are always in confrontation with realism versus revelation. Revelation is designed to make you walk free from realism. You don't need to be confined by the reality of this world.

God is saying, "My children, just start by talking like Me. It's all written for you. Talk what the Bible says, don't talk what those other people say. If you speak like Me and you keep speaking like Me,

I will change it for you. The more you speak it, the more you will believe it, the more you will speak it ... until your believing and your speaking merge into a thing called "Now I have faith in God". Only then you begin to realize this thing that is standing against me, "I move it away, in Jesus Name". That thing that I need in my life, "I call/ speak it in, in Jesus Name."

The next thing God would say is, "When you are speaking like Me and you are behaving like Me, I am going to begin to commune with you. Our heart-to-heart-talks, are going to direct your paths and you are going to begin to touch circumstances, events and people. You are going to find, that as you touch people, I am going to fill your mouth with words and I am going to fill the mouths of other people, with words that they are going to speak to you."

Reality and obedience are two different things. If you go by the reality, then you cannot go by obedience. Moses and the people of Israel stood before the Red Sea (a mighty immovable obstacle). They had to walk there to be able to get there. But God! "Execute your obedience, Moses. Take your staff and stretch it out and My power will be released. This obstacle is not here to defeat you. Your obstacle is to show you how great I am for ever and ever. For every generation to know that I am God".

Psalm 1:1-3 (AMPC) Christians are persecuted for this message, because they cannot be moved. Purpose is their pleasing. Psalm 1 talks about a man who is thinking about the ways of God and the purposes of God and what pleases Him. It is pleasing for that man to think about God and what God wants and what God is saying. Everything that man does shall prosper and come to maturity.

God has placed us here in South Africa, because He needs someone to believe like Him, look like Him, have the authority like Him, have power to change things.

The nations belong to God. We have the right to speak for God.

The money is coming back to Witbank, to Heritage of Faith people. The prosperity is coming to those who will believe it, those who will speak it, those who will stand for God, those who will walk for God. Anybody who talks against this message, mocks God.

Don't quit walking when it doesn't look like it's all happening. Keep walking; God is still working. Keep standing at your 'Red Sea' until the Lord says, "It's time. Plant a tree, raise your stick and speak My Word and watch Me work."

When God does a miracle and He gets you through a tough situation, not only does He give you the victory, but He swallows up all of those that were against you.

Some of you have to start doing this. Get up in the morning and begin to speak out of your mouth, "I praise You, Jesus" (and say "Lord, please remind me through the day").

Now is our time. We are walking in all of the victories that Jesus paid for. We are walking in: victory time, prosperity time, overcoming-faith time. Just hang around us. Find people to speak some Bible and/or praise to you and God will show you how quickly you can make up lost time.

The Lord showed me that there are people in this ministry, that had been exercising their faith and it looks like you're on that precipice. You've hit up against the Red Sea and you don't know where to go next. I'm telling you, just wait for that execution of the outstretched Hand and then you won't have to do anything else. You have just got to stand there and watch God work. Just keep praising!
